

“I desire to serve in the ministry because I want to reach out to the youth through media and tell them why God loves them.”

REUEL ENERIO

I am currently working as the Digital Content Developer on the GCI Media Team. We film, edit and publish all our videos together with help from our Video Production Assistant, David McKinnon. Producing stories from our churches inspires me so we can reach out to more communities in our local areas. I also do some of our layouts for web and print. I love my job!

I grew up in Iloilo City, which is in the heart of the Philippines. I’ve been helping in the youth ministry and multimedia ministry since I was around 15 years old. Being the multimedia tech person during services, events or camps was one of my favorite tasks to do. It was a big transition when I moved to the US 4 years ago. I had to make new friends and learn the American culture. I had to start anew. It was a great blessing when I was called to work for our church. There is nothing more fulfilling in life than to be in Christ’s ministry.

WHAT IS YOUR MINISTRY OR CALLING? I have been in media ministry since I was a little kid. I remember operating the overhead projector when I was a small kid during the festival. I was always called to be part of this ministry. As a new member of the media team, I want to make an impact in our media materials that can help connect and strengthen our communities and churches.

WHO HAS INVESTED IN YOU TO SUPPORT YOU IN YOUR MINISTRY? My parents and sister have always supported me in my involvement with the ministry. My mentors at church have influenced and molded me throughout my spiritual journey.

WHO ARE YOU TEACHING AND EQUIPPING TO HELP WITH THIS MINISTRY? I hope to work with local churches and media teams around the world so we can discuss and share our resources and develop our media materials as a unified community.
