What are some core values that guide your life and influence your approach to ministry?

My approach to serving is guided by faith, compassion, and integrity. I strive to care for others with empathy, reflect God's love, and act with honesty and transparency. My goal is for my work and ministry to embody his character and extend his grace and purpose.

Can you share a memorable experience or testimony from your time in this role?

Speaking on Women's Day in April 2025 marked an important milestone for me, especially after my past reluctance and fear of public speaking.

What is something people don't know about you?

I am extremely competitive when it comes to UNO. Even my 5-year-old son knows Mama plays to win – with love, of course!

I strive to care for others with empathy, reflect God's love, and act with honesty and transparency.

Angelica Hamrick

Tell us about your role in GCI.

While living in Summerville, SC, I was actively involved at Grace Communion Ladson as youth coordinator, women's ministry assistant treasurer, leadership team member, and young adult ministry leader. I volunteered across the Love, Faith, and Hope Avenues. Now based in Charlotte, NC, I serve as member service representative/accounts receivable clerk at GCI's home office.

What skills do you bring to the role that make you a good fit?

I bring experience in accounting, customer service, communication, and administration. That experience, combined with my natural strengths as a Nurturer/Guardian, enables me to bring detail-oriented, compassionate, and excellence-driven skills to this donor-focused support role.

What do you want people to know about working here?

In late 2025, I felt drawn to full-time ministry, though my exact role was unclear. Joining GCI's home office team has allowed me to support God's people in a variety of ways. I am honored to work with dedicated colleagues and contribute to serving the church and community.

What excites you about this role?

Though I deeply miss my former coworkers and GC Ladson family, I'm excited to step into what God has purposed for me in this new season. Working in ministry full-time – even on the business side – feels like a gift. I'm grateful for the opportunity to serve the church while growing as a disciple.

What are the challenges?

A major challenge in my journey was leaving the familiar people and community that shaped me. My Nurturer and Guardian voices often make me hesitant and more cautious toward change. I'm always thinking about how my decisions will affect those I care about. This new phase is teaching me to trust God and move past fear toward growth.

What hobbies or pastimes bring you the most joy?

I enjoy reading and all things crafting – Cricut projects, custom shirts, cups, tote bags, blankets ... you name it! And above all, I absolutely love a good nap.

What's a simple blessing you're grateful for recently?

Simply, I'm grateful for God's grace, mercy, and peace – and the conviction of the Holy Spirit that reminds me he is still shaping me. Learning to stay content and grateful, even in difficult seasons, has been a life-changing journey.

What else is important for our readers to know?

I am truly thankful for the support of my husband and our three sons as we start this new chapter together. I also appreciate the family, friends, and colleagues who have shaped my journey. Although I see them less since moving from Summerville, SC, their impact stays with me, continuing to guide and inspire me.
